The silver miners of the West have certainly had to suffer severely from the panic, says the Engineering and Mining Journal, and they have not left the rest of the world in ignorance of the fact, as everyone knows; but the iron ore miners of Michigan and Minnesota have suffered in silence a much heavier blow than their silver brethren. The production of iron ore this year will be only about one-half that of last year, and wages, which were then about $2.75 for miners, are now down to $1.50 per day for miners and $1 for other labor—a reduction all around of more than 40 per cent.

MIDWINTER FAIR.

Matters Relative to an Exhibit Thoroughly Discussed—A Nevada Building.

Sunday's Journal has the following:

Pursuant to call, there was a joint meeting of citizens and members of the State Agricultural Society at the Court-house yesterday morning. The attendance was not overly large, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in the interest displayed by those present in the matters under discussion.

President Martin of the Agricultural Society presided, and stated the object of the meeting.

Secretary Stoddard read a communication from the Vice President of the Midwinter Fair Association, in which the gentlemen stated that Nevada could have 1500 square feet of space in two of the buildings for $1,800, and that the same would be reserved upon the receipt of fifty per cent. of the amount.

GOVERNOR COLCORD.

Governor Colcord, who lately returned from San Francisco, stated before the meeting that, in company with Evan Williams, he visited the Board of Directors at San Francisco, at a meeting of that body, and protested against the idea of our State being compelled to pay for space in which to make an exhibit. The Board claimed that as the matter had already been settled with our Commissioners, and the space set apart, although no payment had as yet been made on the same, there was no further action to be taken, and that no reduction in the price could be made, for if Nevada was given a reduction, others would be claiming the same right. The Governor could say nothing further, but found on his return here that the Commissioners have not closed negotiations for the space, but simply got the figures on what so many feet would cost. He stated to the San Francisco Board, however, that the people of Nevada, as a whole, protested most strenuously against the charge for space and if there was no State exhibit at the grounds, many of the blocks and handsome Nob Hill residences would be placarded as exhibits of Nevada enterprise and productiveness.

A NEVADA BUILDING.

The Governor believed that it would be far better for the State to erect a building of its own in which to make an exhibit, and was of the opinion that the money required to purchase space would almost, if not wholly cover the cost of such a building. At the figures received, $2,400 would be necessary for the space required and for that amount a nice building could be erected.

Sam Davis, he said, has received the concession and closed the contract for a piece of ground, in the south-west portion of the grounds in which to get up his '49 exhibit. That Davis signified his willingness to allow the State to use a portion of the same. The ground is a slight projection from the main ground and the Governor's idea was to erect the Nevada building at the opening of this projection to the fair grounds proper and hem the Davis exhibit in by running a fence on either side of the building. There will be one entrance gate to the '49 exhibit, to see which a small fee will be charged and the Governor proposes to make the only way of exit through the Nevada building. By this means all persons who go to see the Davis exhibit, which will probably be 75 per cent. of the attendance, will be compelled to look upon the Nevada exhibit. A building 40x50 feet would be ample, and could be completed in a very short time. In regard to finance, he suggested that the Agricultural Board make application to the many moneyed men who made their fortunes in Nevada for assistance.

WHAT OTHERS SAID.

D. A. Bender also addressed the meeting and took almost the same grounds the Governor did, and said by all means Nevada should make an exhibit, and thought no better selection could be made than the Davis ground.

Senator Westerfield thought the Governor had advanced a feasible plan, and that a building was necessary to make a proper showing.

C. C. Powning moved that the Board endeavor to secure $10,000 from the citizens through subscription, with the understanding that the amount will be refunded if the next Legislature can be persuaded to pass a bill to that effect. Carried.

After the transaction of other business, it was decided that a portion of the space conceded to the '49 exhibit be secured by the Agricultural Society for the erection of a Nevada building at the Midwinter Fair, and that the committee heretofore appointed be empowered to select the location.

SKATING ON ICE.

A Large Rink Will be Erected in San Francisco.

The people of San Francisco will shortly have the opportunity to skate on ice. The vacant lot on the southwest corner of Bush and Larkin streets is soon to be occupied by a building, for which the plans are now being prepared. The structure is to be used for an ice skating rink, to be in operation soon after the first of the year. The ice for the rink will be manufactured by a patent process in one part of the building, which, with the plant, will cost about $50,000. The building will be permanent, and as it is in such a good neighborhood, the projectors of the rink are sanguine regarding the success of their venture. The roller rinks have enjoyed such good patronage in San Francisco in days past that the projectors of the ice rink hope to make a hit, relying largely on the novelty of the amusement on the Pacific Coast.

The ice will be frozen twice daily, and the surface of the rink kept smooth. It is contended that, though the temperature will soften the ice more quickly than in the Eastern rinks and the skates cut it up, it will remain sufficiently hard for skating for several hours at a time.

For the enjoyment of the pastime a large number of steel skates will be kept on hand. Many recruits are expected among the number who have never skated on ice, and instructors will be provided for their initiation.

A Rancher Killed.

We learn from the Elko Independent that last week a rancher from Lamaille or Ft. Halleck, by the name of McKenzie or McIntyre, took a load of produce to Eucla and after selling it started for home. He had gone but a few miles on his homeward trip when the brake on his wagon got out of order and he stopped to fix it. While working on the brake a man on horseback rode up, searing the team and he was caught by the wagon and killed. His son mounted one of the horses and rode home, notifying the wife and family. The dead man was taken back to Eureka for burial.

Why He Couldn't Enter.

He stood before St. Peter and meekly applied for admission to the better land.

"Cannot admit you, sir," "Cannot admit me!" exclaimed the dismayed aspirant. "Haven't I lived a Christian? Haven't I obeyed the laws of the land?"

"Oh, yes."

"Then what is my offense?"

"You wanted to stop your newspaper, and instead of dropping a line to the publisher and paying all arrears, you had the Postmaster send him a line to the effect that his paper was refused. A man so contemptible would find no company in heaven, so please move on to the land where they don't shovel snow."—Silver State.
